Šijana, Pula

199,000 €
3,618 €/m²

In the very south of the Istrian peninsula is a small ancient Roman town called Pula. Pula is rich in its heritage and old Roman infrastructures and legacies that give it a special atmosphere when enjoying this beautiful city, which has gradually become one of the leading tourist destinations in Croatia in the last ten years.

Located in an exceptionally quiet location, only 1 km from the sea, the construction of a complex is planned that will include a total of 24 residential units arranged in six buildings in a row, with each building having four apartments. The apartment in question, measuring 55 m², will be located on the first floor and will consist of an entrance hall, a spacious and bright living room connected to the kitchen and dining room, with access to a 4 m² loggia. In addition, the apartment includes two comfortable bedrooms and a bathroom equipped with electric radiators with a thermostat. The floor surfaces will be completely covered with high-quality ceramic tiles, while the exterior joinery will be PVC with double glazing and seven gas chambers. Heating and cooling will be provided by air conditioning, and additional comfort will be provided by underfloor heating installed in the living room, kitchen and bathroom. The apartment will also include one outdoor parking space and a storage room located on the ground floor of the building. All buildings will be constructed with a 10 cm thick thermal facade and designed with an emphasis on energy efficiency and superior thermal insulation, ensuring a comfortable stay and reduced operating costs.

The planned completion of the works is in the spring of 2027.

The aforementioned high-quality and economical property represents a very interesting property due to its quality of construction, location and proximity to the sea and offers various options to the future owner, whether for family housing or the possibility of engaging in tourist activities by renting it out and a faster return on investment.
